The National Marrow Donor Program® (NMDP) is the international leader in the facilitation of unrelated marrow and blood stem cell transplantation. A non-profit organization based in Minneapolis, Minn., founded in 1986, the NMDP facilitates unrelated marrow and blood stem cell transplants for patients with life-threatening diseases who do not have matching donors in their families. The NMDP is the only organization that offers a single point of access for all sources of stem cells used in transplantation: marrow, peripheral blood, and umbilical cord blood. At any given time, the NMDP offers hope to more than 3,000 patients searching its Registry. Through an extensive network of national and international affiliates, the NMDP currently facilitates more than 130 transplants each month. The network includes Apheresis Centers, Collection Centers, Cooperative Registries, Cord Blood Banks, Donor Centers, Laboratories, Recruitment Groups, Repositories, and Transplant Centers. Another partner, The Marrow Foundation, also supports the NMDP through strategic fund-raising efforts with individuals and corporations. For more information about the National Marrow Donor Program, visit www.marrow.org.

The Marrow Foundation® is a partner of the National Marrow Donor Program (NMDP) and secures resources from the private sector to carry out the work of the NMDP. Located in Washington, D.C., The Marrow Foundation was created in 1991 by Admiral E.R. Zumwalt, Jr., who was an early proponent of a national donor registry and a foremost advocate of the NMDP when it began operations in 1987. The Marrow Foundation works to increase the size and diversity of the NMDP's Registry, assist patients and their families, and sponsor research to improve the outcomes of stem cell transplantation. The Marrow Foundation is a 501(c)(3) charitable non-profit organization. Tax-deductible gifts and grants to The Marrow Foundation may be made to support the general purposes of the organization, or they may be designated for a specific purpose as listed above.
